School Committee Urges Voting No At Meeting

Members Say Not Enough Information Available

By Julie M. Barry

The temperature inside the School Committee conference room duplicated the outside heat during the two-hour Collaborative School discussion at Tuesday night's meeting.

As a preface to the discussion, School Committee Chairman Donald Robb noted the committee's position on the school. "We are neither a proponent nor an opponent of the school as a committee," he said.

Robb reviewed committee action on the school up to this point.

The School Committee authorized the study of the Collaborative School and approved a working agreement between Andover and Lawrence with regard to the establishment, operation and maintenance of a Lawrence-Andover collaborative school.

The school isn't a School Committee issue, Robb said, because they didn't bring it to the Town Meeting and they haven't fully discussed it.

But, he added, the School Committee has a responsibility to express an opinion because it's a school-related item.

The following School Committee positions emerged from the discussion on the controversial issue.

•The School Committee recommends disapproval of the warrant article that will be presented at the June 20 Town Meeting. The vote was three to one, with committee member Susan Poore abstaining.

•The committee voted unanimously to request Collaborative School Project Director Dennis Richards to present a summary at the Town Meeting of the work that has been done to date and the work that remains to be done.

•The School Committee will not make a presentation at Town Meeting on the working agreement between Andover and Lawrence, which they approved at their May 17 meeting.

A split vote determined this decision. Poore and Robb favored making a presentation while committee members Richard Neal and Margo Tilghman opposed such a presentation.

Promoted To Eagle Scout

Michael Twomey Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cox of 20 Haverhill St., Andover, was promoted to the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest rank in scouting, at South Congregational Church on Sunday, June 12.

Cox graduated from Phillips Academy in Andover in 1987 and just finished his freshman year at Williams College in Williamstown.

Active in scouting since 1980, he was the Scout of the Year in 1983 and was elected to the Order of the Arrow in 1984.

For his Eagle Scout project, Cox refurbished and, in some cases, rebuilt 11 benches in Shawsheen Village at the corners of North Main and Haverhill Streets. Completed last summer, these benches are for the public to sit on while waiting for buses.

Gets Prize

Belmont Hill School recently held its annual Prize Day ceremonies to honor those students who distinguished themselves during the year. Jason M. Tucker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barry Tucker of Andover, received a Red and Blue Key Society award for performing essential, non-athletic services to the athletic program.

Belmont Hill School is an independent day and five-day boarding school for boys in grades seven through 12. Small classes, a rigorous and traditional academic program, school-wide athletics and other activities provide students with the opportunity for personal development and strong college preparation.

Getting Ready For The Glorious Fourth

The firework display at Andover's Fourth of July celebration is going to be bigger and better than last year, according to Selectman Gerald Silverman.

The fireworks will start at 9 p.m. July 4 at Andover High School.

Musical entertainment will be provided at the high school prior to the display, from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

"We welcome people to picnic and for people to come out and enjoy the program," Silverman said.

AVIS Commended For Good Work

Despite 90-degree temperatures Monday, about 20 hikers walked the Merrimack River Trail through Andover Village Improvement Society land.

Among the hikers were Nat Smith, AVIS president; Rep. Chester Atkins (D-Mass.) and Department of Environmental Management Commissioner James Gutensohn.

The intent of the walk was to celebrate national American Rivers Month and to recognize AVIS for the excellent work it has done in protecting riverfront property on the Merrimack, said a DEM spokeswoman.

The hike also introduced the concept of a hiking trail between the Lowell and Lawrence Heritage state parks along the south bank of the Merrimack—a proposal that is the subject of a feasibility study by the National Park Service.

Smith says the idea is a good one. "I think the more opportunities for humans to get out and be peaceful and enjoy nature the better," he said. "The waterways ought to be public waterways, and adjoining riverfronts should be available to the public."

Education Association Names New Officers

The Andover Education Association has named new officers for the 1988-'89 school year. Sheila Echhoff is president; Charlotte LaPointe is vice president; Lori Humlach is secretary, and Maurice Ferriss is treasurer.

Surveys Due Next Week

The Andover School Committee has sent out surveys to parents of all children 11-years-old and younger to gather opinions regarding the proposed Collaborative School. They have asked parents to return the survey by June 24.

Jack Dziadul, head of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, the group opposed to the Collaborative School, expressed concern at Tuesday night's School Committee meeting that the surveys would not be returned since the due date is after the special Town Meeting June 20, which deals with the proposed school.

"We don't agree with the draftmanship of the survey but we want people to respond to the issue," he said.

Committee member Margo Tilghman encouraged parents to fill out and return the survey, and she said that she had already received some responses.

Teen Center Petition Circulated

Residents and students should be aware of a petition being circulated throughout the town by adults and students to show support for a teen center which will, hopefully, be housed at the newly renovated old town hall.

A young eagle is called an eaglet. Eaglets are hatched with their eyes open and are covered with a grayish-white down. Their feathers begin to grow when they're four weeks old. They leave the nest at 11 or 12 weeks old, but usually stay around the eyrie until they can hunt for their own food.

Participates In Art Festival

Seana Mulcahy, Emily Trespas and Julie Palmquist, students at Andover High School, were elected to attend the first Massachusetts Art All-State Festival at the Worcester Art Museum June 3 and 4. Mulcahy was one of the artistically talented juniors nominated by their respective schools.

Art All-State provides recognition and encouragement to promising young artists. The 150 participants from Massachusetts high schools were selected by panels of prominent state art educators who interviewed nominees and reviewed samples of their work. The festival was co-sponsored by the Massachusetts Director of Art Education, Massachusetts Art Education Association, Massachusetts Alliance for the Arts in Education and Worcester Art Museum.

Students worked in a studio setting with practicing professional artists, an experience rarely available during high school years. They explored various career options in the world of art and received information on portfolio needs and post secondary school training.

The festival focused on traditional occupations in the world of art and also introduced students to some of the newest, technologically sophisticated career opportunities now open to artists—the artists and technicians from Image Engineering of Cambridge presented a laser art demonstration.

On Saturday art teachers, administrators, counselors, parents and the public were invited to attend workshops, panel discussions and a works-in-progress exhibition. Works produced during the festival were exhibited in the Higgins Education Wing.

The festival weekend was the culmination of the efforts of Massachusetts art educators who had been working since May 1986 to develop the program with Sheila Tetler the coordinator, and was made possible by a grant from the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities and support from Assumption College and Charrette Corporation of Woburn.

Zussman, Neil Chairmen

John E. Thompson, Jr., president of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce and CEO of Merrimac Paper Company, announced the appointment of Sidney Zussman, president of West Street Motors, and Robin Neill, senior vice president of Fred C. Church Insurance, to head major committees of the chamber. Zussman will assume chairmanship of the business/education collaborative which had been led by Thompson prior to his election to the presidency of the chamber. Neill was asked to continue in his role as chairman of the government affairs committee.

Zussman, vice president of the chamber, is credited with launching the business/education collaborative's adopt-a-school program. In conjunction with Terry Stonecipher of H.K. Webster Co., Inc. and Richard Murphy of Arlington Trust, Zussman adopted the Bruce School in Lawrence in 1984. That pilot program has grown into a major commitment on the part of the Greater Lawrence Chamber to the public schools of the city. Three other schools, in addition to the Bruce, have been adopted by area businesses who donate manpower, supplies and financial support to help improve attendance, homework completion and report card grades.

Thompson said that "Sid's dedication to excellence in education for the children of Lawrence is unsurpassed. His appointment to the chairmanship of the collaborative means that his leadership, commitment and enthusiasm will assure continued expansion of business' role in enhancing the quality of education in the city's schools."

Neill, also a vice president of the chamber, will begin an unprecedented fifth term as chairman of the important government affairs committee. The choice of three successive chamber presidents, Neil had intended to step down from the chairmanship. Thompson, however, persuaded him to continue in this key leadership post. "Robin's ability to guide the chamber through the thicket of politics and governmental machinations is a rare and extremely valuable asset," Thompson said. "His creative and sensitive leadership on issues like universal health care, land bank and legislative payraise enables our chamber to deal intelligently and effectively with crucial matters facing the future of the business community in this area."

Zussman and Neal will serve through April 1989.

Gem Show

The North Shore Rock and Mineral Club of Massachusetts is holding its 25th annual New England Gem and Mineral Show June 18 and 19 at the Masconomet Regional Center, Endicott Road, Topfield. This year the theme is silver, commemorating the 25th show.

Special events are being coordinated to celebrate the silver anniversary. Included is the seldom exhibited material from the Chipman

Mine, on loan from the Peabody Museum of Salem, Massachusetts. The Chipman, the only active silver mine in the state, was discovered in 1874 and set off a minor silver rush in Essex County.

Neal Recognized By NESDEC

Richard Neal was recognized by the New England School Development Council (NESDEC) for outstanding service to education. He received full accreditation as a School Executive Assessment and Development (SEAD) Center Assessor.

To become an accredited assessor, Dr. Neal was first selected from a New England pool of experienced school administrators to participate in a rigorous four-day training program. Trainees learn how to assess 12 skills such as problem analysis, judgment, leadership, sensitivity and oral communication and receive intensive training in observation, notetaking, report writing and interview skills.

Successful assessors are invited to serve in an assessment center. During a four- or five-day center, they collect data and write reports on participants who aspire to become school principals. The results become available to the participating individual for professional development and to school districts to help in their selection of school principal.

Neal is one of 40 New England-based assessors so recognized at George Page's Restaurant at the Colonial Hilton Hotel.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

Play is the baby's education, and the mobile child needs both more time and more space for it. A five-to-eight month-old may spend an hour at a time in the playpen but needs a regular relaxed period on the floor or outdoors on a lawn where he or she can explore and investigate. As the baby quickly develops skills and coordination, he or she also is becoming more playful. After reaching the age of six months, the baby quickly works up a repertoire of games, punctuated by laughter and excited movement.

Architect: Kallman McKinnell & Wood, Boston
Ceiling Contractor: Environmental Interiors Corporation, Hudson, NH

When Bill and David Shannon decided to form Shannon Corporation in 1985, they submitted a detailed business plan to five banks. Arlington Trust Company was the first to respond to their request for financial backing.

"We represent manufacturers of specialty architectural products for architects working on custom projects," explained Bill. Products like the stainless steel ceilings in Boston's Copley Place Westin Hotel or the specialty metal column covers in the atrium of International Place. "We take the architect's designs and turn them into reality — much like Arlington Trust took our business plan and turned it into reality."

"From the beginning, Arlington Trust Company has given us immediate response... immediate decisions... immediate assistance," said David. "That's the kind of service you need when you have a growing business."

Arlington Trust Company has been responding to the needs of businesses for nearly 100 years. If you're a business in search of a bank, come to Arlington Trust.

Student Rides At Nationals

Dawn Lebreck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Lebreck of Andover, competed at the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association National championships in Laurenburg, N.C., as a member of Colby-Sawyer College's riding team. She placed fourth in the Cartier Cup walk-trot-canter equitation championships.

Lebreck, who will be a sophomore in the fall, is majoring in sports science.

Colby-Sawyer College clinched the Region X Intercollegiate Horse Show Association championships in the final regular Seven Colby-Sawyer riders competed for the Cartier Cup. Three Colby-Sawyer riders also qualified to compete in individual class championships.

Colby-Sawyer placed eighth out of 12 teams. Southern Seminary and Mount Holyoke College placed first and second, respectively.

Bancroft Kids Put 'Oliver' On Stage

Andrea Egmont tried out for a minor role in her school play and ended up getting the lead.

Andrea, 12, a sixth-grader at Bancroft Elementary School, became Oliver last week in the school's musical presentation of Oliver Twist, adapted from Charles Dickens classic rags-to-riches story.

Directed by Betsy Boynton, Bancroft music teacher, the play was put on by 133 students, twice the usual cast size. The end-of-the-year play is usually done by the sixth-grade class, Boynton said, but since Bancroft will be losing both its sixth- and fifth-graders to middle school next year, the younger students were allowed to try out.

Boynton was assisted by teachers Peggy Orlando, Annette Lord and Carol Abdoo. Steven Andreadis played the evil Fagin; and David McCallum was the not-much-better Mr. Sowerberry.

Andrea said the young actors had to sing a song and act out a poem during the auditions. It was a lot of work, said Andrea, who had to play Oliver three days in a row.

Would she like to continue her experiences in the theater? "Yes—definitely."

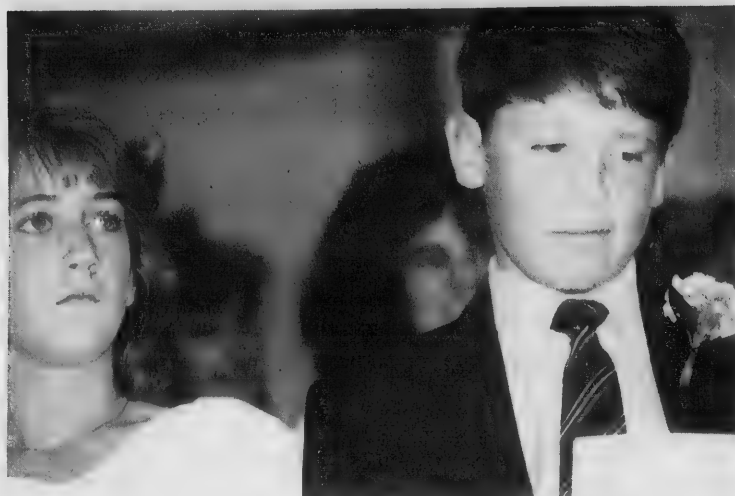

Steven Andreadis looks thoroughly mean as Fagin, the man who teaches street boys to pickpocket.

Bancroft sixth-grader Andrea Egmont as the orphan Oliver, below. Andrea said she got tips on how to act like a boy from her 10-year-old brother.

Kathleen Baldwin and David Clairmont celebrate their graduation from eighth grade at Pike School's commencement exercises Friday.

Pike Graduates Finish Year

Forty-eight students graduated from The Pike School Friday. Headmaster David A. Frothingham awarded diplomas to 30 eighth-graders and 18 ninth-graders at the traditional afternoon ceremonies in the William H. Harding Gymnasium.

Walter Morris, head of the upper school presented the students for graduation. Dr. Stephen J. Scully, a member of the board of trustees and father of one of the graduates, extended congratulations from the trustees.

It is the custom for a member of the class that graduated four years earlier to give the commencement address. This year's speaker was Sarah Leary, who received the outstanding senior girl's athletic award when she graduated last week from Middlesex School. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Leary of Spring Grove Road will enter Harvard University in the fall.

Among the Andover residents recognized for their achievements were Zachary Sung, winner of the Founder's Award for an outstanding record in mathematics, and Amy Lundstrom, who received the Nicholas Grieco Prize for academic improvement, personal growth and positive influence on fellow students.

The French Prize was awarded to Nathalie Lemaitre. Benjamin Tober was a co-winner of the Alice L. Jablonski Science Prize.

Graduates recognized for their efforts in the visual arts were Amy Lundstrom and Adam Winship.

Library board of trustees chairman Norma Gammon stands with Debora D'Agati and Jennifer Wilson, the two high school graduates who won the trustees' annual scholarship.

Students Win Scholarships For Their Work In Library

The trustees annually provide scholarships to graduating seniors who have worked at the library for at least 18 months, maintained a B average and demonstrated a dedication to their work at the library.

D'Agati, a graduate of St. Mary's High School, will attend Merrimack, and Wilson, a graduate of Andover High School, will attend Principia College.

Doherty Happenings

Students at Doherty Junior High School maintain a busy schedule as the school year winds to a close. Eighth-graders made a trip to the State House in Boston and visited the Computer Museum and Faneuil Hall Market. The ninth-grade B Team traveled to Seabrook while the ninth-grade A Team took a Boston Harbor cruise.

Doherty held a special orientation for parents of sixth-graders who will attend the middle school in the fall. Parents had a chance to familiarize themselves with the curriculum and ask questions.

Eighth-graders wound up their social season with an end-of-the-year dance last Friday. The final dance for ninth graders will take place Tuesday, June 21, from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

This week Doherty students "moved up" and visited the classes they will attend next year. Eighth and ninth-graders got a taste of what life at the high school will be like and fifth- and sixth-graders sampled a typical day at Doherty.

The outing club took to the high seas last weekend for a whale watch. Other upcoming trips include the eighth grade trip to Water Country and ninth grade trip to the beach on Wednesday, June 22, and the seventh grade trip to Canobie lake Park on Thursday, June 23.

Individual awards assemblies are: seventh grade on Wednesday, June 22, at 12:45 p.m.; eighth grade on Thursday, June 23, at 12:45 p.m.; ninth grade on Tuesday, June 21, at 12:45 p.m. Final assemblies are: eighth grade on Friday, June 24, at 8:45 a.m. in the auditorium; ninth grade on Thursday, June 23, at 8:45 a.m. in the auditorium.

Doherty Students On Whale Watch

Twenty-five students and chaperones from the Doherty Junior High School Outing Club participated in a six-hour whale watch with the New England Whale Watch, Inc. this past Sunday. They left from Hilton's Dock in Newburyport in the early morning and encountered their first whale within the hour.

Marine biologist Scott Mercer, co-author of "The Great Whale Book" who has been studying marine mammals for 14 years, led the expedition. He gave a pre-cruise lecture on the world-wide status of whales and descriptions of various whales and other marine mammals that might be encountered during the day and provided additional information about whales during the day.

The students sighted 17 of these mammoth creatures, including ten humpback, five finback and two minke.

The whales dove in and out of the water as close as 20 feet from the boat. The students were delighted when whales smacked their tails and fins onto the water's surface.

Montessori School Celebrates Last Day Of School Year

The Andover School of Montessori ended the school year this week with its annual picnic at the Dragon's Lair playground at Bancroft Elementary School.

Families were entertained by the students of each classroom. Classroom 1 was a big hit with an original song and dance called "Montessori Rap." Children from Classroom 2 sang in Spanish and in sign language, while Classes 3 and 4 had fun singing "Ing Gang Gooly" and "Going on a Picnic" for their parents and teachers.

After the presentations, certificates were awarded to those completing two or three years at the school. Children receiving certificates and going on to kindergarten or first grade in the fall were

Child Safety

With so many youngsters playing on the streets, beaches and playgrounds, the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children urges all adults to be alert to common sense safety rules.

- Role-play the "Stranger Danger" advice. It's not enough to say "Don't go in strangers' cars." Instead, act out a potential situation so the child knows exactly what to do if approached.

- Teach young children their telephone numbers and address, if possible (for older children), teach them one or both parents' workplace and telephone number.

- Don't label hats or T-shirts with child's name. Molesters may call them by name, pretending to be a family friend.

- Long car rides to vacation and recreation spots can strain families. Cranky children need extra patience.

- Check day care, camp or babysitter's credentials carefully. Ask for references.

- never leave a child under 7 alone of unattended anywhere at any time.

- Teach young children to hold another's hand, preferably an adult, in public places.

High interest rates have made home ownership an impossible dream for many. Now the new fixed-rate SMART MORTGAGE can once again put home ownership within your reach.

With this revolutionary new mortgage you can cut your total interest payment almost in half simply by changing the way you make your mortgage payments. All you do is accelerate your payment schedule.

Instead of one payment a month, you'll split your monthly payment in half and pay it every two weeks. And since there are 52 weeks in a year, you will end up making an extra monthly payment each year. This drastically lowers the amount you owe, reduces the interest you pay and builds your equity faster.

Own your own home sooner.

The smart way.

By paying half of your monthly payment every two weeks, you hasten the day when you can burn your mortgage. With a SMART MORTGAGE you may own your own home free and clear in approximately 20 years instead of 30. (Your mortgage payoff date will vary with the rate of interest you pay. With a lower interest rate your payoff term will be longer.)

The smart way to pay.

The SMART MORTGAGE saves you time as well as money. Because it eliminates paperwork. You pay your mortgage the smart way through a regular checking account at our bank. Every two weeks, your mortgage payment will be deducted automatically. That will save you a lot of check writing. And stamp licking.

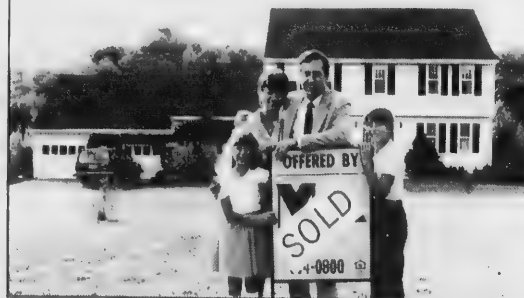

Get smart.

If you're buying a home today, be sure to ask about the SMART MORTGAGE.

This is just one more way we help enrich your life through the intelligent use of money.

The Art Of Composting

By Virginia Cole

Are you ready to compost? We will try to answer your questions as to why, what and how.

WHY has two answers: From the point of view of Andover Recycling and the Town of Andover's solid waste budget, it means fewer bags of trash (leaves, grass clippings, brush) to go to the incinerator and add to the $63 per ton cost we must pay there.

The second reason is making your own organic material will improve your soil, lawn, flower beds and vegetable plots. Compost supplies energy and nutrients to soil organisms that recycle in the soil and are made available to plants. Compost increases the water-holding capacity of sandy soils and makes clay soils easier to work.

WHAT: Leaves, needles, lawn clippings, weeds, hedge trimmings and even sawdust can be readily composted. Branches that are shredded or less than one inch in diameter can be included. Larger ones take too long to decompose. Chopping leaves with a lawn mower (which is an easier way than raking in the fall) shortens the decomposition time. Nitrogen fertilizer can be added but very good compost can be made without this.

HOW: There are many ways, some simple, some complicated. A regulation pile should be started in part shade and near a supply of water. A pile 3' by 3' by 4' is a good size. That takes about 20 bushels of leaves or clippings and will yield eight to nine bushels of finished compost.

Start with 6" to 10" loosely packed organic material (leaves and clippings), wet, but do not saturate, and scatter one cup of 10-10-10 or similar fertilizer, if you wish. Continue this process as long as you wish. Four to six feet high is deemed advisable for convenience in getting at the finished product. The pile should be turned about once a month to aerate and ensure even decomposition. The material should be moist, but not soggy, and the interior brought outside and exterior turned in. Do not pack down anymore than necessary to keep the pile standing.

The compost is finished when it turns black and most of the original materials are unrecognizable. Anywhere from three months to one year will give good useable compost. The compost gives off no odor and does not have to be used when it is "done." It keeps for when you need it.

There is a second answer to HOW. The lazy man's compost pile. We have that kind. Just put the leaves, clippings, etc., in one pile in an out-of-the-way corner and leave it. When compost is needed, dig out from the bottom and it is just great. Rain does the watering and time does the decomposition, without turning and aerat-

ing. Of course, we've had this pile awhile, but if you are in no hurry, compost. It's a lot easier than putting grass and leaves in plastic bags and lugging them to the street.

The biggest continent is Asia. At almost 17,000,000 square miles, it's nearly 30 percent of the earth.

Nazarian Completes Gem Course

Robert Sarkis Nazarian, Jr. of 209 Johnson St., North Andover, has completed a course in colored stones with the Santa Monica, California-based Gemological Institute of America, and has been awarded the institute's colored stones certificate.

Established in 1931, the non-profit institute is an educational and research organization serving the jewelry industry, with campuses and laboratories in New York and California.

To complete the colored stones course successfully, Nazarian was asked to master a range of information and skills relating to quality and value factors, the nature and origins of gems and their imitations and the care and cleaning of gems.

With new gemstones appearing every year and the demand for traditional rubies, sapphires and emeralds on the rise, a knowledge of colored stones is considered essential in the jewelry industry.

No Care Like Home Care

At its recent annual breakfast, the Massachusetts Association of Home Care Program/Area Agencies on Aging honored Sen. Pat McGovern for her outstanding legislative contributions during the debate on the health care for all bill with the "988 No Care Like Home Care Award."

"Sen. McGovern has provided her colleagues, and us, with the 'ways and means' to envision a better, more efficient and more effective human services system - universal health care, human services reform. Both of these efforts amount to better ways of government, helping people," said Rosanne DiStefano, executive director of Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley Inc., the local home care and Area Agency on Aging and presenter of the award.

The Mass Home Care Association has a membership of 27 home programs across the state with the responsibility to assist over 45,000 older adults in remaining in their own homes and communities.

Wins Major Awards At BC

Marilyn Kinsella believes you love your children, no matter what their talents.

But it is, she said this week, a pleasure to share the shining success of a "very hard worker."

Paul Michael Kinsella, 22, graduated summa cum laude with honors in economics from Boston College recently. He was first in his class, earning a dozen awards.

"I think he has a lot of natural talent, but he is also a hard worker," said Mrs. Kinsella. "His father is very, very proud."

Kinsella is the third child of Dr. and Mrs. Michael Kinsella, 25 Kathleen Drive.

He received the Thomas I. Gasson award as a graduating senior with a distinguished academic record. He also won the Alice E. Bourneuf award for outstanding achievement in economics.

Kinsella was appointed chief marshal of the Order of the Crown, a group composed of college seniors who maintain an A-minus average or better while showing exceptional leadership and service on campus.

He is a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, the national Jesuit honor society; Alpha Epsilon Delta, the national pre-medical honor society; Omnicron Delta Epsilon, the national economics honor society; and the Gold Key honor society.

Kinsella also received the Anthony J. Schiano award in recognition of extraordinary effort and commitment to university assistance programs and in his junior year was elected to Phi Beta Kappa.

His mother said he worked in a halfway house for alcoholics and ran the freshman assistance program, "an enormous undertaking."

Paul M. Kinsella

Kinsella attended Andover schools until his freshman year when he transferred to Phillips Academy.

"He enjoyed studying and doing well, but I think he went through the normal process of adolescence," she said. "He presented similar problems that all adolescents present their parents."

Kinsella will begin working for the Wall Street firm, Goldman, Sachs, this month.

David Durand Pedini, son of Drs. Kenneth and Egle Pedini of 12 Sherbourne St., graduated from Phillips Exeter Academy June 5.

During the ceremony, he was awarded honors for his academic achievement.

While at Exeter, Pedini was co-president of the Computer Club and a dormitory proctor in McConnell Hall. He was named a finalist in this year's National Merit Scholarship Competition on the basis of the qualifying examination and for outstanding academic progress. Pedini will attend Cornell University in the fall.

Women & Joint Custody

After divorce or separation, joint legal custody means that you and your husband must consult and agree on all major decisions governing your children's lives such as medical care, education and religious training. In recent years, joint legal custody has become very fashionable for separated and divorced couples because it appears to offer a way to involve both parents in their children's lives. However, joint legal custody requires you to maintain continued contact with your husband and may mean additional Court involvement in your family's life when you and your husband cannot agree.

Committee member Michael Frishman was not present at the meeting.

The final decisions didn't come to fruition easily. There was much discussion from the School Committee members and the floor.

Should the School Committee endorse the warrant article?

In his update to the committee, Richards said several areas require further study.

Some items he cited are enrollment criteria, curriculum, the site study, staffing and financial data.

Most of the financial information is preliminary and tentative, Richards said. "The whole area of finances is really unclear at this point," he said.

The majority of the School Committee say they need this information before endorsing the Collaborative School.

"I don't feel I can endorse this without further information in above areas," Neal said.

"We have been working on this for some time, and we still have work to be done," Robb said.

But Poore maintained that the issue isn't one of insufficient information. "I think the School Committee is skirting the real issue—the validity of Town Meeting," she said.

The issue, according to Poore, is whether the impact of Town Meeting will have any effect on the committee's future actions toward the school.

The School Committee will confront this issue after the Town Meeting vote.

Will the School Committee make a presentation at the Town Meeting?

This issue was raised by Debbie Paul, chairman of the League of Women Voter's Education Committee.

The School Committee will not make a presentation itself, but available information will be presented to the town via Dennis Richard's presentation and printed material.

Children's Choir

The Nashoba Valley Minnesingers, a children's choir, will present their spring concert Friday, June 10, at the Townsend Congregational Church by the Common in Townsend. The free concert begins at 7:30 p.m.

For this performance, director Edith S. Tompkins has selected a variety of show tunes, folk songs, art songs and rounds, both old and new, to match the light mood of an airy June evening.

The Minnesingers will welcome soprano Bonnie-Jean Allan, who played

Anna in The King and I as guest soloist. Also performing will be two students from Indian Hill Arts School of Music: pianist Katie Webber and flutist Sarah Chamberlain.

Down Under

Earthwatch Down Under, 680 Mount Auburn St., Watertown, will sponsor an "Australia Night" Thursday, June 16, from 6-9 p.m.

Dr. Joseph T. Baker, director of the Australian Institute of Marine Science, will talk about marine research on the Great Barrier Reef, one of the world's richest ecosystems.

THE SOCIAL SIDE

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 16, 1988

YWCA Holds Summer Registration

The Lawrence YWCA, 38 Lawrence St., Lawrence, is holding registration of its summer programs. Two four-week terms will be held from June 27-July 22 and July 25-August 19.

The aquatic department is offering two new courses in addition to its regular instruction classes and lap swims.

An adult "terrified" swim class will be held Thursdays at 10:30 a.m. This program is designed for people who really want to learn to swim but have fear of the water. Participants proceed at their own pace and advance only when they feel comfortable and confident to move on to the next skill.

Synchronized swimming will be taught Wednesdays at 4 p.m. to those 10 years of age or older with at least advanced beginner skills. Participants will learn stunts, stroking and how to swim to music.

A full series of American Red Cross swim instruction classes in levels from beginner through advanced for youth and adults will also be conducted. Daily lap swims, youth swim and water exercise classes are also offered as well as family swims twice a week.

The YWCA will give swim tests for anyone wishing to participate in the Greater Lawrence Community Boating Program. The test will be given during all lap swims at 9 a.m., 12 noon or 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday or Saturday at 11 a.m.

Fitness programs in aerobics and strengthening and toning will be held daily at noon time in the Houghton fitness room.

Aerobics will be offered Monday, Wednesday and Friday and "Butts, Guts and Thighs-Oh My!!," a strengthening and toning regimen, on Tuesday and Thursday. The programs are designed for the working woman with the intensity of the workout increasing as individual progresses.

The body constantly produces new cells for growth and repair—about 500,000 daily.

Veilleux-Johnson

Jill Kristine Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Peter Johnson of 5 Acropolis Circle, and Joseph Andrew Veilleux, son of Anna Veilleux of Dover, N.H. and the late Oliver Veilleux, were married May 14 at South Church.

The Rev. Norman Townsend, youth pastor of South, and the Rev. Karen Roy officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sister, Kelly Johnson of Andover, as maid of honor. Her bridesmaids were Donna Veilleux of Dover, the groom's sister; Sue Clement of Williamsville, N.Y.; and Dorlee Taylor of Mesa, Ariz.

Mark Veilleux of Dover was best man for his brother. Ushers were P.J. Johnson of Andover, brother of the bride; Paul Veilleux of Mesa, brother of the groom; and Kanaan Al-Darraj of Dover.

Andrew Veilleux, the groom's nephew, was the ring bearer.

Florist Rudy Pivouar of Windham, N.H. decorated the altar with Victorian garden baskets of rhubrum lilies, liapis, snapdragons, statice and dianthus. The columns in the sanctuary were wrapped in Victorian garlands of plumosa and baby's breath.

Joan McElwain of North Andover was the organist. The Bob Brenner Quintet of Brookline provided music at the reception. Paying tribute to her parents' 25th and her grandparents' 50th wedding anniversaries, the bride included songs from their weddings in the prelude music—"Hawaiian Wedding Song" and "Because," respectively.

The bride wore a white off-the-shoulder gown of matte taffeta with a fitted bodice trimmed with beaded Viennese motifs, gathered cap sleeves and a skirt of cascading ruffles which swept the circular chapel train.

Following a reception at the Andover Marriott, the couple took a Caribbean cruise.

The bride is a 1986 graduate of the University of New Hampshire and is a Prudential Insurance agent.

The groom graduated from McIntosh College in Dover in 1984 and works in restaurant management in Dover.

THE RELIGIOUS COMMUNITY

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 16, 1988

Professor To Address Services

Temple Emanuel's adult education committee invites the community to Shabbat services Friday, June 17, at 8:15 p.m.

Dr. Nathan Glazer, professor of education and sociology at Harvard University, will be the lecturer. As a teacher and author, he reminds us of the crucial role played by all minorities in shaping American society. Glazer will share important insights into the "Relationship of the American Jewish Community with Israeli Society, Past and Future."

Of the many books he has written, his most widely read and discussed volume is "American Judaism," dealing with the Jewish religious revival in America.

Funeral Director Tells Students About Work

Harvey Goldman of the Scholssberg-Goldman-Fisher Funeral Home in Malden told a group of eighth- and ninth-grade pre-confirmation class students at Temple Emanuel in Andover what it's like to be a funeral director.

Some of the students have taken a course called "Jewish Life Cycle"; others are currently taking the class.

Goldman explained Jewish practices regarding death and mourning and how he tries to help a family to cope with their loss. He said the focus of the funeral process is equality, simplicity and dignity for the deceased.

But part of his job is helping the living, Goldman said. The funeral director stressed that, although a loved one dies, his or her memory lives on.

Goldman also answered students' questions.

Strawberry Festival To Be Held At Church

The Women's Guild of the Ballard Vale United Church will sponsor a strawberry festival June 23 from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall.

Strawberry shortcake will be the main feature with strawberry sundaes a second choice.

Tickets may be purchased from guild members or at the door.

Alzheimer's Research

Alzheimer's Disease Research, a program of American Health Assistance Foundation, has recently awarded $350,000 in grants to two scientific researchers at the Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston for studies on Alzheimer's disease.

James F. Gusella, Ph.D., director of the Neurogenetics Laboratory at Massachusetts General, has received a $200,000 grant for his study "Physical Mapping of the Familial Alzheimer Disease Region of Chromosome 21." Gusella has mapped the genetic defect which causes familial (inherited) Alzheimer's disease to a portion of chromosome 21. AHAF is funding Gusella in his efforts to narrow the search for the exact gene on the chromosome by preparing a map of this region. Isolation of this gene could allow for pre-symptomatic diagnosis, a greater understanding of the exact cause of the genetic defect and potential therapies for familial Alzheimer's disease.

Charles A. Marotta, M.D., Ph.D., a researcher in the Neurobiology Laboratory of Massachusetts General Hospital, has received a $150,000 grant for his study "Molecular Studies on the Alzheimer's Disease Brain." Marotta is examining the gene that makes amyloid, a protein that accumulates in the AD-afflicted brain. These protein deposits are directly related to the severity of the patient's symptoms. Marotta and his team have succeeded in cloning this important gene and inserting it into lab cells, subsequently the overproduction of the protein occurred. These gene experiments are a means for producing cell models that can be easily grown in the laboratory and used for a number of studies, including the effect of drug treatments on the Alzheimer's disease-related protein.

American Health Assistance Foundation is non-profit.

Teen Center Group Views Activities

The teen center organizational meeting held its third and final meeting this past week. The committee will continue to work on various sub-committees throughout the summer and resume regular scheduled meetings in the fall.

Michael Frishman from the School Committee and students representing various schools in town were also present.

The purpose/program committee presented a detailed report of the programs and activities for the teen center. The students were then able to give their input.

A petition was discussed to see how much support from adults and students a teen center would have in Andover. It was decided to have a table at the Sidewalk Bazaar to obtain signatures.

Anyone interested in serving on a committee or in attending the meetings in the fall should contact Gina Riddiford.

Justified

Members of the parking committee, appointed by selectmen to resolve a continuously perplexing downtown problem, are justified in their feelings of frustration over reaction to their suggestions.

Chris Holmes, chairman of the committee, addressed the selectmen this week, indicating that she and the committee members were frustrated by the reaction from the board to their report.

Chief among the complaints was the lumping together of the suggestions and recommendations of the committee into a single town meeting article.

The committee is absolutely correct in the assumption that parking meter installation should not be joined together with such things as restriping of the municipal parking lots.

There is an almost certain negative reaction to any proposal regarding parking meters. To think that voters would go along with additional inconvenience of parking meter installation and costs is virtually senseless. There is a possibility they would approve parking lot improvements.

But the selectmen, in setting up the warrant for the annual town meeting, decided to facilitate matters and place the parking committee's recommendations in a single article, thus insuring that the work of this volunteer group, which had worked diligently to improve downtown parking conditions, would be for naught.

It is the type of action which defeats the desire to place oneself available for public service.

As a courtesy to the parking committee, selectmen should re-examine the recommendations and take the time to review the proposals with an eye toward presenting them to subsequent town meetings.

Speaking of town meeting, there is one coming up Monday night to vote on the proposed Lawrence-Andover Collaborative School proposal.

Our stand on the issue was published last week and indicated that this is not the proper time to act on the issue, since not enough information is available.

But, the town meeting has been legally called for and it is incumbent upon the residents of the community to respond.

It is the time of year when attentiveness to municipal matters is not a priority.

But, this issue is important to the future of two communities and attendance Monday night, for what could be only a brief time, is highly recommended.

Doubtless, the 350 voters needed for a quorum will be met. A much larger attendance would be better.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

The Andover Chamber of Commerce did themselves proud this week through the presentation of the Community Service Award to Frederick P. Fitzgerald.

Fred has proven to be the type of public servant who quietly continues to do whatever is asked of him and to contribute to the vitality of his community.

A member of the school committee for several years, he never hesitated to indicate his feelings on public education issues, whether they were popular or not.

As a finance committee member, Fred would issue minority reports on the floor of town meeting to offer to the voters of Andover a studied choice on an important financial issue.

He has lent his talents to the Andover Historical Society for many years as well as to Free Christian Church where he serves as moderator.

While he was born and educated in Lawrence, later going on to receive a degree from Columbia, Fred adopted Andover as his community after his marriage, which has been a fortunate decision for the town.

Fred has been a frequent visitor to the TOWNSMAN over the years, stopping by with suggestions or just to discuss various happenings in the community. It was always a pleasant experience to just sit and chat with Fred, who was actively involved in a school committee controversy several years ago which ultimately led to resignations of some committee members.

Too, he was frequent contributor to the newspaper, either through letters or reports on activities in which he was involved.

Indicative of the type of person the award recipient was summed up in his appreciative acceptance when he concluded "the opportunity to serve the community is its own reward."

Noticed last week that consideration is now being given to yanking licenses from older citizens.

Well, I'd sooner be driven by a golden oldie, than by some youthful jerk burning rubber to get moving.

I'll take a ride from a 60 or older with the radio on some comforting music rather than getting transported in an ear-shattering junk patrolling the streets.

Give me the crew from the senior center, even though their reflexes may be somewhat slower, than those young drivers whose reflexes are obviously non-existent as displayed by the manner in which they weave in and out of lanes, speed, and disregard common courtesy on the road.

Think again on who the irresponsible drivers are before taking away a vital privilege to so-called old-timers.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — May 1888

The new town safe, for which appropriation was made at the March meeting, has arrived and been set up in the Selectmen's room at the town hall. It was made to order by the Hall's Safe and Lock Co., of Cincinnati, and is amply provided with shelves, pigeon-holes and drawers, for the records and papers of the town. It weighs about four tons. The special use of a town safe is not to protect funds, which are deposited elsewhere, but to protect the priceless records of the town, which burglars do not want, but which fire might burn. These records may now be said to be safe.

The Boston papers have the announcement that the $100 Dante Prize at Harvard University, has been awarded this year to Geo. R. Carpenter of Andover, his essay being on the Reconciliation of Vita Nuova and Il Convito.

Ground was broken on the day before the anniversary, for one of the new buildings, which is to be erected on the former site of Smith Hall, the young ladies of the school each taking a hand at the shovel.

75 Years Ago — May 1913

Much interest was shown by the townspeople this week in the work on the electric car rails of the Bay State Street Railway Company, between the Square and the top of the hill. The work consisted of welding the joints in the rails by an electric process, and is the latest and most improved method of preserving the rails and saving power.

A plan to assist boys and girls in securing summer employment, and to co-operate with those persons who are desirous of engaging the services of school children, has been put into operation by the superintendent of schools in the establishment of a registration bureau.

The commencement exercises of Abbot Academy will take place next week.

A large number of Andover people attended the parade and performance of Ringling Brothers circus in Lawrence on Tuesday this week.

Samuel H. Boutwell of West Andover addressed the pupils at the Punchard School on Thursday morning on the subject, "Agriculture as a Vocation."

The general catalogue of Abbot Academy, which has been in preparation for about three years, has just been issued. Copies may be obtained at the Academy during Commencement at the price of one dollar.

A meeting of the local citizens interested in a Fourth of July celebration was held in the lower Town hall on Monday evening, as a result of which subscription papers are now being circulated.

50 Years Ago — May 1938

A total of slightly over $7,000 in prizes and scholarships, of which nearly $1,000 went to Andover boys, was presented at the Chapel services at Phillips academy yesterday morning by Dr. Fuess. The largest local award, and one of the largest of all awards, was the Amherst scholarship of $400 given to John A. Lindsay, based on scholarship, character and need.

THE PUBLIC FORUM

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 16, 1988

Setting Conditions

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

It is not, as Rick Elias suggests, opponents of the Richards/Seifert/Scully collaborative proposal, not to be confused with the collaborative school, who are wasting the citizens' time. Our time is being wasted by the Richards/Seifert/Scully collaborative project group's unwillingness to modify any of the Collaborative School's operational design, an educational plan that will so clearly create inequality and instability in the Lawrence and Andover school systems. It is indeed time to vote on the merits of the proposal as it now stands, if for no other reason than the fact that Mr. Richards and those directing the collaborative project have responded to none of the constructive criticism directed at the proposal. From the beginning, Dr. Seifert and Dr. Thayer (then Lawrence superintendent) articulated to Mr. Richards what they wanted in this school. The mission given to Mr. Richards was to sell the fully realized plan for the Lawrence/Andover-Urban/Suburban Collaborative to the public, not to seek input from the community. Almost nothing has been changed in the operational parameters of the collaborative school proposal since Mr. Richards sprang the plan on Andover and Lawrence last September. The school committees of Lawrence and Andover, the superintendents and Mr. Richards have been completely intransigent in modifying their requirements for this massive educational undertaking. I am a caring, liberal educator and I think the collaborative idea has merit, but that the present proposal is unacceptable. If the school committees of Lawrence and Andover, the superintendents and Mr. Richards want my support, they will have to meet the following conditions.

1. Legally guarantee, in perpetuity, that the space and facilities needs of the schools in each community will be fulfilled first and that class size in the schools in Andover and Lawrence will always be the same or less than the class size in the collaborative school. If schools in Andover are badly overcrowded and the collaborative is not, then attending the collaborative can not be considered voluntary. Parents are forced to consider sending their children to the collaborative not because they want to, but because of overcrowding in the neighborhood schools and because of the disparity of educational opportunity and service between the collaborative and the regular schools.

2. Legally guarantee that any superior program that is offered at the collaborative will be made available at every school in Lawrence and Andover. If the state's educational funding apparatus is in such plush condition that it can afford to build the Dennis Richards Memorial Pool in the collaborative then the state can certainly afford to underwrite innovative educational programs in the individual elementary and middle schools. Once more it is a question of equality. We all pay taxes and all of our children are entitled to equal provision of educational services.

3. Legally guarantee that the collaborative school will have its own staff and will not draw off teachers from the other elementaries and middle schools.

4. Legally guarantee that the collaborative school will have no more than 600 students.

5. Legally guarantee that the student population will be drawn 50 percent from Andover and 50 percent from Lawrence.

Meet those conditions and you've got my support. Until then I join with the opposition in urging every registered voter to go to the Special Town Meeting June 20 and vote against the collaborative. As long as the school committees, the superintendents and Mr. Richards think that they can bulldoze through their agendas without accountability to the taxpayers, they will. A No vote is the only way to serve notice on the elected officials and administrators pushing the Richards/Seifert/Scully collaborative proposal that they must listen to the tax-paying families of Andover and Lawrence. Those families, who long after Dr. Seifert and Scully have retired, will have to live with the impact of and pay for the collaborative school.

Waste Of Time

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Citizens for Neighborhood Schools has gathered enough signatures to call for a special Town Meeting on the Collaborative School (CS) claiming that everybody has already made up their minds and that the School Committee already has sufficient information. Citizens for Excellence in Education disagrees on both counts and totally supports our elected town officials.

State officials evidently feel that the CS could provide educational benefits for all children, for it appropriated over $250,000 for a study. The School Committee obviously saw potential merit in the idea and last year voted to study the concept. Although much information, especially financial, has yet to be finalized, the committee has seen no information that warrants changing their opinions or topping the study at this time and should continue until they have completed a thorough investigation. Under the circumstances, it is totally irresponsible, both financially and intellectually, to ask the residents of Andover to vote on the issue before this investigation is complete.

We are not too surprised, however, that CNS would call for a vote before the School Committee is ready to make a complete presentation. In a letter to the School Committee in January, the leaders of CNS admitted that they're doing everything they can "...to stop the project...That was our intent from the beginning," they wrote.

As further evidence of their political maneuvering, CNS has so worded the article that a two-thirds vote will be necessary for passage. (CNS claims it is trying to see if there really is support in Andover for the school; somehow, support is now defined as 67 percent, not 51 percent!) However, even if this article passes, a proper bonding article, requiring another two-thirds vote, will have to pass at a future Town Meeting before the school can be built.

Bear in mind that defeat of this article does not mean the CS is dead, for other articles can be brought before future town meetings. Nor can anything be done to prevent the School Committee from continuing their work on the project. Quite the opposite, in fact. The Finance Committee recommended rejection of this article, reasoning that there is currently not enough information to accurately assess Andover's financial commitment or risk. Members of the FinCom, however, stated that their decision should not be interpreted as suggesting that work on the CS should stop; on the contrary, they encouraged the School Committee to continue its efforts.

In short, this special Town Meeting is a waste of town time, energy and money, for, whether this particular article passes or not, residents will need to vote on the proposal again, either to secure bonding or, once town officials feel they have enough information to present a complete package, on the CS itself and a bonding article.

Nevertheless, this special Town Meeting represents an opportunity to reinforce support for the CS. We are, therefore, urging all supporters to attend this meeting, literally voice your support for the school and vote no on this article.

Obviously, CEE strongly supports the CS philosophically and educationally; however, we recognize that there are practical and financial considerations as well. Not enough of those considerations have yet been answered, and we think it would be irresponsible to fully support such a major endeavor until those answers are available.

League's Position

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

Delegates of the League of Women Voters attended the town of Andover's Finance Committee meeting Thursday, May 26. The purpose of this meeting was to review financial information on the proposed collaborative school, since a citizens' petition has called for a June 20 Town Meeting.

The project has now been under study for 17 months at the taxpayers' cost of $162,000. Recently an additional $75,000 has been appropriated for further study of this proposal. The Collaborative School project has been directed by Mr. Dennis Richards, who reports, in part, to the Andover School Committee.

Apparently, as a result of an informal decision made previously, the School Committee elected not to present its own financial report on the proposed project at the May 26 meeting. It was the position of School Committee Chairman Donald Robb that insufficient information is currently available to present a formal report. The League of Women Voters is deeply concerned that this "lack of financial information" position will result in limited participation by the School Committee at the special town meeting.

We are urging the school committee to formally present all available information concerning this proposal at the Town Meeting. A significant number of Andover citizens have exercised their right of democratic petition and accountable government requires that a full and detailed response be forthcoming. It is a principle of the League of Women Voters "that democratic government depends upon the informed and active participation of its citizens and requires that governmental bodies protect the citizen's right to know by giving adequate notice of proposed actions, holding open meetings and making public records accessible."

The League of Women Voters believes that citizens who take time to exercise their civic responsibility by attending Town Meeting should be the final arbiters of whether sufficient information exists to make an informed decision. It is not within the purview of the School Committee, project director or any special interest group to make these decisions on behalf of the voters of Andover.

In closing, it is our sincere hope that with the presentation of all current information, citizens will make an informed decision and that our elected representatives will be responsive to the will of the people.

To Appear In Concert

Tom Rush

Pop artist Judy Collins and folk singer Tom Rush will combine their creative talents in a joint concert at the J. Everett Collins Center for the Performing Arts, Shawsheen Road, Andover, on Saturday, June 18, at 8 p.m.

This concert will be the final performance in the fifth anniversary season of the Collins Center. Both artists are returning to the Collins Center following sold-out performances.

Collins describes herself as a contemporary pop singer. For more than 20 years, her choice of material from a variety of sources, in addition to her writing, has reflected her life and the world around her: "My work is an expression of the person I am—a mother, friend, an artist, a woman."

Her choice of material has often made Collins a difficult artist to label. Over the course of the 21 LPs she's recorded since 1961, she has interpreted songs in folk, rock, country, theatre and other idioms, infusing each with her own style.

Her newest album, "Trust Your Heart," is an inspired mix of musical styles with interpretations of songs from stage and film as well as original material.

Collins is best remembered for her songs

Judy Collins

"Both Sides Now," "Memory" from Cats, "Send in the Clowns" and "Chelsea Morning."

Rush has rekindled the folk flame and again become a major artist in the folk field. One of the voices to emerge from the Cambridge coffeehouses in the '60s, he performed with Joni Mitchell, Jackson Browne and James Taylor.

He became a familiar folk artist with a cider-sweet tenor voice singing ballads of love and loss. Rush had all the club and college dates he could handle and a recording contract with Columbia. But, then, it wasn't fashionable to be "folkie," and Rush purchased a 600-acre farm in Hillsboro, N.H.

He formed his own production company, Maple Hill, and started marketing his records under his private label.

Since then he has sold out Symphony Hall in traditional year-end concerts, produced a PBS broadcast and recently played to rave reviews and a sold-out audience at the Colonial Theatre in Boston.

Rush's part of the concert will be "vintage Rush," backed by his familiar six-piece band.

THE TOWNSMAN, JUNE 16, 1988

Warrior Netmen Take Title

By Rick Harrison

Battling 90-degree heat as well as its opponent, the multi-talented Andover High boys' tennis team won its second straight Eastern Mass. Division 2 North championship this past Monday afternoon by chalking up a surprisingly easy 4-1 triumph over Lynnfield at the neutral Swampscott High courts.

That victory, the Golden Warriors' fourth straight in tourney play this June, placed coach Mike Wartman's squad in the state semifinals for the second consecutive year.

AHS, 19-1 overall, was scheduled to face Western Mass. Division 2 boys' champ Holyoke High yesterday morning in the state semis at Southeastern Mass. University in Dartmouth.

If Andover won it was slated to play for the state title yesterday afternoon against the survivor of the Eastern Mass. South vs. Central Mass. semifinal match.

Last year the Warrior boys won the North, blitzed Central Mass. champ Bromfield High of Harvard 5-0 in the semifinals, and then dropped a tough 3-2 decision to Sharon High in the state final.

Coach Laura Goodman's Andover girls, meanwhile, after capturing an unprecedented fifth straight Merrimack Valley Conference title and going undefeated during the regular season, stretched their win streak through 18 matches before dropping a tough 3-2 decision to Lynnfield in the EMass. North tournament semifinals.

The Golden Warrior gals, 18-1 overall, lost in the Eastern Mass. semifinals for the third consecutive year. All three setbacks have been by the slimmest margin, 3-2, Lynnfield also ousting AHS in 1986 and state finalist Swampscott High turning the trick last spring.

Andover Boys

"We played very well (in the title match) against Lynnfield," said coach Wartman.

Experience might have been a factor, with most of the Andover players having faced the tournament pressure many times before.

"They (Lynnfield) seemed a little over-anxious," admitted Wartman.

"We lost to Lynnfield two years ago in the tournament, but hadn't played them this year so I wasn't quite sure what to expect.

"We were also coming off a very tough match Friday against Masconomet (3-2 win). I really didn't think the final would be so uneventful."

All four Andover points against Lynnfield came on straight-set sweeps, with singles' victories by Jeff Hechemy (6-1, 6-2) over Judd Rottenberg and No. 3 Steve Napolitano (6-1, 6-3) over the Pioneers' Bob Elliott setting the tone.

In doubles' play, Pete Kannam and Scott Clementi stopped Pete Watson and Tim Cronin, 6-4, 6-2, while Steve Gack and Hugh Maginnis were 6-2, 6-2 victors over Craig Fieldman and Jeff Atherton.

Freshman No. 2 singles Chris Chiang dropped a tough three-setter to Lynnfield's Steve Meyrat, the latter prevailing 6-1, 2-6, 6-0.

"The heat really wasn't a factor," said Wartman. "There was a little breeze blowing so it wasn't too uncomfortable for the players."

It became increasingly difficult with each victory, but the Golden Warrior boys moved ahead to Lynnfield by registering con-

Liz Jurek won second singles 6-4, 6-4 and Mimi Bernardin won third singles 6-2, 6-0. The girls lost a tough match against Lynnfield 2-3. Doherty lost 2-6, 6-4, 5-7; Jurek lost 0-6, 3-6; and Bernardin lost 0-6, 6-1, 2-6. Georgian and Lottatore won 2-6, 6-3, default; and Brodie and Salazar won 5-7, 7-5, 6-3.

The team credits Coach Laura Goodman for the successful season.

Merrill Selected For Team

A group of Massachusetts residents are going to do some tough negotiating with the Europeans this summer, but this time it will be on the soccer field, aided by Andover resident Christopher Merrill.

Merrill will be part of the Massachusetts team of Teams/USA competing in major youth cups in Sweden, Denmark and Holland during July.

A sophomore at Andover High School, Merrill has been a standout on and off the field as a center forward this year. The school team recently finished its season at 15-0-1. Merrill was the second highest goal scorer. When not playing soccer, he spends his time with track and indoor soccer.

secutive tournament wins over Hamilton-Wenham (5-0), Dover-Sherborn (4-1) and Masconomet Regional (3-2).

Four of the five matches against Hamilton-Wenham were swept in straight sets, with Chris Chiang the only AHS player extended to three before subduing John Van Lokeran 6-4, 2-6, 6-3.

Merrimack Valley Conference MVP Hechemy coasted past Chris Sullivan, 6-2, 6-2, and senior Tri-Capt. Napolitano completed the singles' blitz with a 6-0, 6-1 romp over the Generals' Mike Sarantopolis.

In doubles, juniors Kannam and Clementi handled Chet Harding and John Favazzo 6-3, 6-3, while senior Tri-Capt. Maginnis and Gack stung Scott Falk and Mark Dorava 6-1, 6-1.

In the quarterfinals against Dover-Sherborn the Golden Warriors cleaned house in singles, winning everything in straight sets.

Junior Tri-Capt. Hechemy disposed of Chris Randall 6-4, 6-2, Chiang charged past Brad Dean 6-4, 6-3 and Napolitano steadily stroked his way to a 6-4, 6-4 decision over Stuart Foehl.

In doubles, Kannam and Clementi stumbled in a three-setter against the D-S tandem of Jeff Jameson and Derek Moore (6-2, 3-6, 4-6).

Maginnis and Gack won their second straight in tournament play, however, roaring from behind to edge Mike Miller and Todd Govoni 4-6, 7-5, 7-5.

In the semifinals it was Napolitano's clutch three-set victory at third singles that proved the difference in Andover's 3-2 triumph over Masco, Steve rallying for a third-set tiebreaker win over Chris Robinson (5-7, 6-3, 7-6).

Jeff Hechemy continued to roll over all comers, posting his 65th career victory 6-3, 6-3 against overmatched Mark Butterworth.

Maginnis and Gack remained undefeated in the tournament, nipping their opponents 7-6, 4-6, 7-5.

Chris Chiang suffered his first loss of the season in team matches, 7-5, 6-4 to Chris Long, and the Kannam-Clementi duo lost their second consecutive three-set marathon after winning the first set.

"Overall I believe we're as strong a team as we were last year," said Wartman, "although we graduated an undefeated No. 1 doubles team in Erik Frank and Scott Powers."

Andover Girls

The Andover girls, undefeated Merrimack Valley Conference champions for the fifth straight year, launched tourney play with a tough 3-2 decision over neighboring North Reading at the Rec Park courts.

Senior No. 2 Co-Capt. Liz Jurek and sophomore No. 3 Mimi Bernardin gave AHS two points in singles, Jurek sweeping the Hornets' Shannon O'Donnell 6-4, 6-4 and Bernardin doing the same to Alicea Hidalgo 6-2, 6-0.

Sophomore No. 1 Cate Doherty and North Reading's Jen Whitney were deadlocked at one set apiece when Doherty injured her back, forcing the Golden Warriors to default that match.

The doubles were split, Andover junior Julie Salazar and sophomore Jen Brodie blasting Heather Dickinson and Michelle Chabot 6-0, 6-0 while the No. 1 pair of Co-Capt. Andrea Georgian and freshman Karen Lottatore won the first set 6-1 but then dropped the next two by identical 6-4 scores to the NR combo of Heather Hennessey and Becky Hozubin.

In the quarterfinal round the Andover girls captured their 18th straight match of the season, trimming Amesbury 4-1.

Cate Doherty shook off the back injury to hammer Jill Gagnon

6-0, 6-0, and Mimi Bernardin almost duplicated the whitewash with a 6-0, 6-1 romp over Sara Oelkers.

AHS swept the doubles with relative ease, Salazar and Brodie 6-0, 6-0 while Georgian and Lottatore were 6-2, 4-6, 6-3 victors.

The 3-2 semifinal round loss to Lynnfield was a tough one, Andover sweeping the doubles but getting swept in the singles where two of the matches went the full three sets.

Salazar and Brodie finished unbeaten in tourney play with a come-from-behind 5-7, 7-5, 6-3 victory over the Pioneers' Teri Bebbick and Elyse Newton.

Georgian and Lottatore split two sets with Jill Brook and Jill Carasco, losing 2-6 and winning 6-3. Andover won the point by default when one of the Lynnfield players was unable to continue.

In singles, Cate Doherty and Mimi Bernardin lost the three-setters.

Erin Cullinane nipped Doherty 6-2, 4-6, 7-5 and Lynnfield's Jenny Holden won a Jekyll-Hyde 6-0, 1-6, 6-2 decision from Bernardin.

Mooney Places Seventh

Mike Mooney completed an outstanding season for the Andover High boys' track team by placing seventh in the 300 intermediate hurdles event at the annual New England Interscholastic Championship Meet last weekend at Boston College.

Mooney was clocked in 40.6 en route to seventh place, capping a successful campaign that saw him go undefeated in Merrimack Valley Conference dual meets, win the Eastern Mass. Class B title and place third at the All-State Meet.

Warriors Conclude Successful Season

By Rick Harrison

It all ends so quickly.

One minute you're riding high on a sea of emotion, feeling invincible, and an instant later the season is over.

Such is life in high school athletic tournaments.

For the Andover High baseball team the final irrevocable chapter of a thoroughly-impressive 1988 season was written at Melrose High last Saturday evening, where an unearned run and an unflappable Waltham pitcher named Sean Flanagan halted the Golden Warriors one victory shy of their first-ever Eastern Mass. Division 1 North championship.

As the final out of the 1-0 Andover loss was etched in the scorebook the SRO crowd gave the underdog overachievers from this town a well-deserved standing ovation.

Immediate reactions from the Golden Warrior players to the frustrating defeat ran the gamut. Cleanup hitter Mike Moriarty crouched down on his haunches beside the dugout in apparent disbelief, some stared at the celebrating Waltham players or simply raised their eyes skyward, and several looked at the leftfield scoreboard one more time before reality finally settled in.

Exactly one week ago the best team in AHS baseball history reached the brink of state tournament qualification with a pulsating 2-1 Division 1 North semifinal victory over Newton South, a game most memorable for the courageous pitching of ironman Steve Surette and the incredible two-strike squeeze bunt by John Glynn that rescued the winning run in the top of the ninth.

The Golden Warriors, who opened the tourney by beating Chelmsford (7-2) and Revere (9-8), toppled a soon-to-be professional pitcher in that one.

Newton South righthander Brian Burlingame, taken by the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 45th round of the amateur draft earlier in the week, reportedly inked a contract with the Bucs immediately after the game.

That dramatic victory set up the title showdown with favored Waltham, a game that developed into a tense pitcher's duel between Flanagan and Andover junior righthander John Russell.

Flanagan, owner of a sizzling fastball and sharp-breaking curve which are both delivered with a whiplash and oft-times sidearm motion, allowed just three singles, struck out 13 and walked only one (intentionally).

Russell, substituting savvy for flair, countered with a six-hitter, four strikeouts and just two walks (both intentional as well).

The only run came in the bottom of the first inning, aided by two Andover errors, and thereafter the best scoring chances belonged to the Warriors.

During its four-game tournament ride AHS, seeded eighth in the original 16-team field, knocked off the No. 1 (Revere) and No. 4 (Newton South) seeds and also came oh-so-close to ousting No. 2 Waltham.

All the cliches certainly apply. The Warriors have nothing to be ashamed of, and should hold their heads high. But naturally they would have traded all those hackneyed sayings for just a couple runs last Saturday.

Moriarty was Andover's top hitter in the Eastern Mass. Tournament at .429, going 6-for-14. Batting .333 were Tom Murray (5-for-15), Rick Lafond (4-for-12) and John Russell (3-for-9), while Steve Howes hit .308 on 4-for-13.

Defensively third baseman Howes, catcher Murray, shortstop Abernathy, second baseman Scott Wallace and first basemen John Glynn and Chris Concemi were outstanding throughout.

Concemi, a big contributor all season, was forced to miss the last two games with a knee injury suffered in the ninth inning of the Revere thriller.

A Patriots' baserunner, diving back to the bag on a pickoff attempt, rolled over Chris's knee and caused a hyper-extension injury.

Had the Golden Warriors advanced to the state tournament this past Tuesday Concemi would probably have played, but instead he was forced to watch the Newton South and Waltham games from the dugout while hobbling on crutches.

Andover completes the season at 17-7 overall, and will enter the 1989 campaign as the defending Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division champion.

Three of the seven losses were by one run to Chelmsford (4-3, eight innings), Central Catholic (5-4) and Waltham, while two were by two runs against Danvers (2-0) and Lawrence (3-1).

Top hitter over the full 24-game schedule was Mike Moriarty at .395 (30-for-76), followed by John Glynn (.368), Keith Abernathy (.351), Tom Murray (.343), Scott Wallace (.329) and Steve Surette (.293).

And, for the record, these three victories were the first for Andover in tournament play since 1965. The Blue Devils, as they were then known, defeated Gloucester that year before being eliminated by Chelmsford.

The ironic twist came when Chelmsford was AHS' first victim in 23 years.

Andover, 2-1

Bionic Steve Surette made it two complete games and 20-1/3 total innings within five days, tossing a clutch nine-inning four-hitter at Dual County League runner-up Newton South.

Surette, who finished 9-2 this spring and is 14-5 for his AHS career, walked five, fanned four and threw 129 pitches.

He surrendered a leadoff homerun to P.J. O'Toole on his third pitch in the bottom of the first inning at Lawrence's Mark Devlin Field, then blanked the Lions the rest of the way and permitted only two more runners beyond second base.

Brian Burlingame, victimized by Rick Lafond's clutch RBI single in the seventh and John Glynn's memorable two-strike squeeze in the ninth, finished with a six-hitter, six strikeouts and no walks.

Andover threatened three times in the first four innings, but each time Burlingame was equal to protecting the 1-0 lead.

Tom Murray ripped a two-out double down the leftfield line in the first, but Mike Moriarty lofted a deep fly to centerfield to end that bid.

Lafond slapped a two-out single and stole second base in the next frame, but a popout squashed this potential rally.

In the fourth Moriarty singled, stole second and moved to third on Glynn's flyout, but he too was left stranded.

In the Newton South fifth O'Toole spanked a one-out single, Fred Mitchell walked, and Derek Fergus bunted both into scoring position. Surette then worked free by getting Burlingame on a pop to second baseman Scott Wallace, who made a fine running catch in full stride near the rightfield line.

In the Lions' sixth first baseman Glynn prevented possible trouble with a crisp 3-6 doubleplay.

Mike Moriarty instigated the tying uprising in the seventh with a leadoff single. He stole second once again and was sacrificed to third by Glynn.

Keith Abernathy ripped a line drive up the middle that tipped off pitcher Burlingame's glove to shortstop O'Toole for the second out.

With luck having deserted the Golden Warriors, Rick Lafond substituted skill and flared Burlingame's first pitch to rightfield for a game-squaring RBI single.

Both teams went quietly in the eighth, but in the top of the ninth Murray rapped his second double and alertly stole third when Moriarty faked a bunt drawing the Newton South third baseman in tight.

Glynn swung on the first two Burlingame pitches, fouling both off to the right side, and then stunned almost everyone in the park except himself and coach Dave Bettencourt by dropping a perfect suicide squeeze bunt down the first base line to plate Murray with the winning run.

Murray did his part as well, breaking for the plate full speed.

"It didn't take much to make the call," said Bettencourt. "The kid's the one who has to go out there and execute it. Johnny's good at moving the ball, so I figured we'd give it a shot."

"After he got behind two strikes I felt psychologically if we left that man on base the edge would swing back to Newton South. So we went for it and Johnny got the job done!"

Newton South stirred around in the bottom of the ninth, however, as Mike Straussburger drew a leadoff walk and took second on Ed Hynes' sacrifice bunt.

John Agulnick ripped a hard two-hopper to second baseman Wallace, who knocked the ball down and made the clutch play for the second out as Straussburger took third.

Surette then fanned pinch-hitter Steve Glick for the final out, although the third strike curve was in the dirt and Murray had to fire to Glynn at first base to make it official.

Murray, Moriarty and Lafond accounted for all the AHS offense with two hits apiece.

Defensive standouts for the Warriors, who made just one error, were keystone partners Wallace and Keith Abernathy.

Waltham, 1-0

Waltham, which improved to 21-3 with its fourth consecutive tournament triumph, entered this game billed as an offensive powerhouse.

The Hawks also boasted an impressive tourney resume, having ousted Lincoln-Sudbury which booted defending Division 1 North champ Melrose.

John Russell, who finished the season with a 5-4 record, mastered all but two Waltham hitters with an array of curves, off-speed serves and an occasional fastball.

Leadoff batter Jerome Fuller gave him trouble, the talented catcher going just 1-for-4 but cracking four balls on the nose and flying out twice to leftfielder Mike Moriarty and centerfielder Rick Lafond near the fence.

"I was very impressed with the catcher," said Bettencourt. "He's as good as we've seen offensively. He hit everything John threw him — the curve, the fastball and the changeup."

Had Fuller been on first base during the game it would have been interesting to watch the battle, rifle-armed Tom Murray pitted against a player who stole more than 40 bases this spring.

was intentionally walked twice, ripped a long opposite-field double to left, and made it 2-for-2 with a line-drive single to centerfield in the eighth.

Waltham advanced just one runner beyond second base over the final seven innings, Marimon doubling in the bottom of the sixth and taking third on Joe Florio's bunt.

The Hawks then botched a suicide squeeze, however, and Russell extricated himself when Dave LaCava popped high to second baseman Scott Wallace.

The game's lone run came in the first as Randy Johnson smacked a two-out single, moved to second when the ball was misplayed in the outfield, and scored after Marimon was intentionally walked and Joe Florio's grounder skipped through the infield.

"Johnny Russell pitched his smartest game of the season," offered Bettencourt. "Gloucester (two-hit shutout) was the hardest he threw, but he never spotted the ball better or thought more on the mound than he did against Waltham.

"If someone told me before the game Waltham would only score once I'd have said we'd win. It was a great pitching performance but unfortunately it went unrewarded."

Sean Flanagan gave the Golden Warriors fits as he pitched only the third shutout against Andover this spring.

The Waltham hurler struck out the first four and the final two batters he faced, fanned at least one in every inning, retired nine straight to start the game, and also set down the final five AHS hitters in order.

Only four balls were stroked out of the infield by Andover, singles from DH Matt Pothier, Steve Howes, John Glynn and a ninth-inning foul fly to rightfield by Pothier.

"We've definitely faced pitchers who threw harder," said Bettencourt. "It wasn't his velocity, although that was good. Flanagan had a very tough slider, the best we've seen (or not seen) all year. And his motion also made it very difficult to pick up the release point. He hid the ball well.

"All I knew about Flanagan before the game was that he was a real competitor. A Steve Surette type who gets stronger and more confident as the game goes along. Someone like that always concerns you if you're on the other side."

The Warriors moved just two runners beyond first base, and both of them almost scored.

Pothier broke up Flanagan's no-hitter with a single to rightfield kicking off the fourth.

He stole second, took third on Scott Wallace's groundout, but was gunned down at the plate on a set play after Moriarty was intentionally walked, stole second uncontested, and then purposely wandered too far off the base to draw a throw from Fuller.

"It's a designed play that's worked for us before," said Bettencourt. "And I feel it would have worked again. But it's triggered by a verbal signal, and Matty (Pothier) never heard it over the crowd noise. When he saw them go after Mike he knew the play was on, but by then it was too late.

"We weren't hitting the kid so I figured we had to make something happen. We went for broke and this time it didn't turn out well for us."

Howes and Glynn advanced no further than first base following their singles in the sixth and seventh, respectively.

But in the eighth Rick Lafond was safe on an error to start things. He moved to second on a passed ball and to third on Steve Surette's groundout to short.

The Warriors then attempted a suicide squeeze, a play appropriately named on this occasion. Flanagan threw high and outside where the batter couldn't reach the ball, with Lafond caught in a rundown and eventually tagged out between third and home.

"It was the second straight pitchout and the kid (Flanagan) called it himself," explained Bettencourt. "It was a great decision on his part. The suicide won the previous two games for us, and at that point it was definitely worth a try."

Andover succumbed to Flanagan 1-2-3 in the ninth.

"Until it was over I felt the longer the game went with the close score the better our chances," admitted Bettencourt. "We became accustomed to late-game comebacks and tight scores in the tournament, and I always thought we'd find a way to get one or two runs."

Third baseman Steve Howes had an exceptional game in the field, making four nice plays. Russell and Wallace worked a sharp pickoff to kill a potential Waltham threat, and Lafond flagged down Fuller's deep drive near the 400-foot sign in straightaway center.

Starters graduating from this team are Co-Capt. Tom Murray and Scott Wallace, Mike Moriarty, Rick Lafond, Chris Concerni and Steve Howes.

In a recent survey of pool owners who used BAQUACIL swimming pool sanitizer, an astonishing 87% said they prefer it over chlorine. For a lot of good reasons.

They pointed out that BAQUACIL won't bleach or discolor hair or fabrics. It can't harm a vinyl liner. It's less likely to produce skin and eye irritation. And there's no chlorine odor.

But the leading answer by far: 67% said it's easier to use. So there's more time to use the pool.

League Openers Monday

The Andover Blue and Andover Gold Pony League baseball teams will open their 1988 Greater-Reading League seasons next Monday, which appropriately enough is the first day of summer.

Andover Blue will host the Stoneham Cubs at Andover High, while Andover Gold travels to face North Reading at North Reading High.

Both games have 6 p.m. starts.

Gold also captured the overall GRPL title in both 1985 and '86, and AG has won five league championships in the past seven summers (three previous in the Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League). Blue is the defending GRPL co-champion, having shared the crown with Lynnfield last year.

This marks the first time in several years Blue and Gold have not opened the season against one another.

The intra-town archrivals will clash twice in July, however, the first battle Tuesday, July 5 at Andover High and the second contest on Monday, July 18 at AHS.

Gold's two other games next week will be Thursday (June 23) against the Reading Y's Men at Morton Field in Reading, and Saturday at home against the Stoneham Cubs (10 a.m.).

Blue also hosts North Reading next Wednesday night and travels to Wilmington Saturday afternoon (1 p.m.).

Rounding out the league are the Reading Astros, Reading Jets and Stoneham Tigers.

Bill Batchelder is the scheduled opening day pitcher for Gold, while Blue tentatively will go with either Todd Al-lard or Joe Mari-naro.

Cardinals Clinch First Half Title

By Jim Arnold

Todd Harris shut out the Pirates for the second straight time and Brian Flanagan ripped three hits to boost the Cardinals to an 8-0 victory last Friday night.

The Cards blasted the Mets on Saturday to claim the first-half title of the National Majors Division of the Andover Little League.

The Cardinals can clinch the second-half title with a pair of victories this week. Should they keep winning, they appear destined for a town championship rematch with Joe Larrobino's Red Sox who are rampaging through the American League.

Cardinals 8 - Pirates 0

Eleven-year-old Todd Harris lifted his career Little League mound ledger to a 10-1 with this dazzler over the hard-hitting Pirates. Harris, who spaced out seven hits, used his superb control to emerge unscathed from each successive jam and also rapped a pair of hits and scored two runs.

Brian Flanagan clocked three hits and scored twice. Centerfielder Ricky Crispo tallied three runs. Frank Morris and David Schaffer played steady outfield and third baseman Bobby McKertich turned in a stellar effort.

David Hosmer contributed two safeties for the Pirates while Toby Guzowski, Matt Marvin, Alex Marshall, Danny Evans and Patrick Russo struck for one apiece.

Cubs 4 - Pirates 3

Consecutive doubles by Pat Walsh and Tim Connors proved to be the back-breaking blows as the Cubs made a thrilling comeback win in eight innings.

The Pirates went ahead 2-0 early, but Ricky Saggese slammed his fifth homer of the season to tie it. The score remained deadlocked until the eighth when the Pirates assumed a 3-2 advantage.

The Cubs combined a walk with the heroics of Walsh and Connors to snatch the win. Walsh also claimed the pitching victory. P.J. Auffermann made an outstanding diving catch in deep centerfield.

Pirate pitchers Toby Guzowski and Matt Marvin threw peas throughout.

Only when grown in this special chalky soil do the two most important sherry grapes, the Palomino and the Pedro Ximenez, produce the finest wines.

The natural intensifying in the sun of the grapes' sugars is only the first of many unique steps in the production of sherry. Next, the wine ferments for about a week to ten days. Then follows a second fermentation when the remaining sugar is converted, leaving a pleasant, totally dry wine.

Raytheon Develops System

Raytheon Company's Equipment Division now offers a high-resolution raster color display system for government and commercial applications such as air defense, anti-submarine warfare, command and control and air traffic control.

Raytheon's SC-2000 display-generation system consists of a powerful graphic controller that is capable of driving a 20 by 20-inch color raster monitor with a resolution of 2048 pixels by 2048 lines and 3-D anti-aliased graphics.

Originally developed for use in next-generation air traffic control consoles, this sophisticated display system can satisfy a variety of related requirements in image analysis, radar display, real-time graphics representations, simulators and training systems.

Raytheon's SC-2000 display generation system uses the IRIS Geometry Engine VLSI chip set as the "front end." The SC-2000 system incorporates a new, variable resolution display controller that is capable of driving virtually any size monitor.

Real-time movement of data is achieved at vector plot rates of 40 million pixels per second and polygon fill rates of 397 million pixels per second.

Scholarship Recital At Methuen

A special Scholarship Fund Recital will feature John Dunn on the organ and Thomas Cook on the trumpet on Wednesday, June 22, at 8 p.m. at Methuen Memorial Music Hall, 192 Broadway. All proceeds will be added to the scholarship endowment account that allows the board of trustees to annually award scholarships to graduating high school seniors planning to major in music at college. Last year's recipients were Laura J. Bewig of Andover and Jennifer Lynn Nucci of Chester, N.H. Application information for scholarships may be obtained by writing to the Youth Committee, P.O. Box 463, Methuen, MA 01844.

Dunn is music director at St. Paul Church, Cambridge, and principal/music director of the Boston Archdiocesan Choir School at St. Paul's. He holds degrees from Harvard College and Boston University and the fellowship and choir master diplomas of the American Guild of Organists. His teachers have been Theodore Marier, Max Miller and George Faxon. Dunn has performed widely with the famed Archdiocesan Choir School and in solo recital.

Cook is a winner of the Concerto-Aria competition sponsored by Boston University and has appeared as a featured soloist with the Boston Pops Orchestra. He has also performed with the Harvard Chamber Orchestra, the Handel and Haydn Society, the Banchetto Musicale and the Opera Company of Boston and is principal trumpet of the Rhode Island Philharmonic Orchestra.

They will play the suite for Trumpet and Organ from Herioc Music by George Philipp Telemann; Prelude and Fugue in E Flat Major, BWV 552 by Johann Sebastian Bach; Trumpet Tune by John Stanley; Three Chorales for Trumpet and Organ by Jean Langlais; Sonata No. 8 in e minor, Op. 132 by Josef Rheinberger; Sonata for Trumpet and Piano, Op. 51 by Flor Peeters; and Grand Chorus in Dialogue by Eugene Gigout.

The Methuen Memorial Music Hall is probably the only instance in history in which a hall of such proportions and magnificence was built for the sole purpose of housing an organ, the largest in the Americas.

Art Guild Members To Exhibit

Several members of the Andover Art Guild will be exhibiting their works in area banks.

Fran Van de Venne's watercolors will be in Arlington Trust Co. in Shawshen Plaza this month. North Andover resident Van de Venne's exhibit will be followed in July by the photographs of Robert Dennis of Andover.

Watercolor painter Louise Small of Andover will be featured in First Essex Savings Bank, 211 N. Main St. through July.

Bank of New England, 84 Main St., will host works by Andover residents. Bette Moore's pastels and watercolors will be in the bank this month and Julie Cole's pastels will be there in July.

Merry Beninate of North Andover will hang her oil paintings in the Bank of New England in Methuen through July.

All of the works on display are for sale.

A picture postcard collector is known as a deltiologist.

Islands

The Boston Harbor Islands State Park is a unique natural resource only minutes from downtown Boston on the South Shore. Seven islands are managed as part of the park, offering a variety of activities and experiences.

Visitors may enjoy picnicking, hiking, exploring historic fortifications, fishing for flounder and bluefish, boating, swimming and overnight camping. Island managers provide recreational and educational programs on the natural and social history during the summer months.

To visit these island, take a boat from Long or Rows Wharf in Boston or the Hingham Shipyard Commuter Boat Pier, Route 3A, Hingham. Daily free water taxis service begins Wednesday, June 29, from Georges Island to Gallops, Lovells, Bumpkin, Grape and Peddocks Islands.

FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY
FEDERAL INSURANCE ADMINISTRATION
Proposed Flood Elevation Determinations
AGENCY: Federal Emergency Management Agency
ACTION: Proposed rule.
SUMMARY:

Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed modified base (100-year) flood elevations shown on your community's preliminary Revised Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM). These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the floodplain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP). The proposed base flood elevations modify the base flood elevations shown on your community's presently effective FIRM.

DATES:

The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the community.

ADDRESSES:

Preliminary FIRMs showing the proposed modified base flood elevations and their delineation are available for review at the Engineering Department, Town Offices, Andover, Massachusetts.

Send comments to:

The Honorable William Downes
Chairman of the Town of Andover
Board of Selectmen
Essex County
Town Offices
Andover, Massachusetts, 01810

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

John L. Matlicks
Chief, Risk Studies Division
Federal Insurance Administration
Federal Emergency Management Agency
Washington, DC 20472
(202) 646-2767

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Federal Emergency Management Agency gives notice of the proposed determinations of modified base (100-year) flood elevations, in accordance with Section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added Section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR 67.4(a).

These elevations, together with the floodplain management measures required by Section 60.3 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their floodplain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State, or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 USC 605(b), the Administrator, to whom authority has been delegated by the Director, Federal Emergency Management Agency, hereby certifies that the proposed flood elevation determinations, if promulgated, will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. A flood elevation determination under Section 1363 forms the basis for new local ordinances, which, if adopted by a local community, will govern future construction within the floodplain area. The elevation determinations, however, impose no restriction unless and until the local community voluntarily adopts floodplain ordinances in accord with these elevations. Even if ordinances are adopted in compliance with Federal standards, the elevations prescribe how high to build the floodplain and do not proscribe development. Thus, this action only forms the basis for future local actions. It imposes no new requirement; of itself it has no economic impact.

Proposed base flood elevations along flood sources studied in detail are shown on the Preliminary FIRM. Lessees and owners of real property in the Town of Andover, Essex County, Massachusetts, are encouraged to review these maps and related materials at the address cited above. The flood sources studied in detail are:

At the one hundred and sixtieth Commencement of Phillips Academy this Friday three scholars and gentlemen retire from their active academic connection with the school. Yet, though Allen Rogers Benner, John Lewis Phillips, and Warren King Moorehead say farewell to the routine of classrooms and textbooks, all three will continue a live and active interest in the fields in which they have so long been guiding the boys under their care.

Casper, the Friendly Ghost and his pal, Ha Ha the Clown, will be the featured attraction of the third annual Sidewalk Bazaar Saturday, June 22, according to Robert Phinney, chairman.

In a spirit of cooperation and mutual interest, directors of the Board of Trade met with the Selectmen Monday night and talked about some mutual problems. The Planning Board also sat in the session. Charles Dunklee, general manager of the Trade Board, explained that his organization wants to be on a basis of mutual cooperation with the Selectmen, so that each can help the other when necessary, with a full understanding of each other's problems.

Key To The Treasure

Key to the Treasure is the theme this summer in the Children's Room at Memorial Hall Library. Along with this special summer reading program, story hours for 3-5 year olds, crafts for the 6-10 age group and an evening adventure hour called "Outer Dimensions" for boys and girls 9-12 years old will also be offered, according to Bridget Bennett, children's librarian. For full details, pick up a copy of the summer program booklet in the Children's Room.

Summer Hours

Summer hours will be in effect starting Monday, June 13. The library will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. but closed weekends until after Labor Day.

Canoe Rally

The Merrimack River Watershed Council and the Merrimack, N.H. Parks and Recreation Committee will sponsor a canoe rally between Merrimack and Nashua, N.H., Saturday June 18, to celebrate the successful passage of state rivers protection bill spearheaded by the New Hampshire Revers Campaign. Open to the public, this eight-mile flatwater paddle will offer a self-guided tour of natural and historic features, formal announcement by the Rivers Campaign and lunchtime activities for people of all ages.

Last year's Merrimack River Watershed Council Rally, north of Concord, attracted 300 people and 112 canoes and kayaks onto the river, including Gov. Sununu, numerous congressmen, legislators and local officials. This year's event will again draw citizens and officials alike to demonstrate support for the rivers program mandated by the legislature in the Department of Environmental Services.

Sponsors of the Rivers Bill, informative speakers and knowledgeable canoe guides will be a few of the resources available to participants throughout the day. The trip route is along a highly scenic and rural section of the Merrimack, largely undeveloped despite its close proximity to the state's two largest cities. A self-guided tour is being prepared to point out historic and natural features such as centuries-old lock and canal remnants and the island retreat of Chief Passaconaway.

A limited number of rental canoes are available for those with some experience but no canoe. For details call the Watershed Council's Massachusetts office. A small donation is required to cover expenses of the 2,500 member non-profit, citizens organization.

REAL ESTATE GUIDELINES

By George Schruender, G.R.I.
Realty U.S.A.
Schruender Real Estate

DRESS YOUR HOME FOR SUCCESS

Whether it's a job interview or a social function, when you want to make a great impression, looking good is important. The same is true of a home that is on the market, and when the "For Sale" sign goes up, your home should be dressed for the occasion.

The first impression will be from the front yard, so a well groomed exterior is crucial, from landscaping to paint. Inside, your home should be as clean and tastefully decorated as you can make it. It's a good idea to fix any cracked plaster or peeling paint. Sparkling kitchen and baths, squeaky clean windows, and made beds will help your home to "show well". Sometimes, keeping a home looking its best is hard work, especially if you have children and are in the middle of packing your family for a move. The dividends are impressive, however. A home that looks good and well cared for has an excellent chance of selling quickly for top dollar.

If there's a move in your future, the real estate professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate are ready to serve you. Call us at 685-5000 or drop by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover.

MORTGAGE INTEREST DEDUCTION

Mortgage interest payments on principal and second homes continues to be fully deductible under the latest tax law as long as the debt does not exceed the original cost of the residence plus the cost of improvements. If the borrow funds are used for medical, education, or home improvement expenses, the interest is deductible up to the current MARKET VALUE of the property.

Here's where definitions become important if you own more than two homes. A principal residence is the one used most often by the taxpayer (the one that would qualify for the rollover gain provision of the current law).

A second residence qualifies if personal use exceeds the greater of 14 days or 10% of the total number of days the home is rented. A "home" includes a house, apartment, condo, mobile home, etc.

Interest on third or more homes is not deductible. However, each year a taxpayer may choose which residence to treat as the second home. Home ownership is still a great tax shelter.

The Key to Results in Real Estate

Local Woman Named Teacher Of Year By Audubon Society

Local teacher Candace Bachner received the Conservation Teacher of the Year Award at the elementary school level. The award was given by the Massachusetts Audubon Society, in cooperation with the New England Farm and Garden Association.

Bachner, a teacher at the Shawsheen Early Childhood Development Center, received the award at the state conference of the National Science Teachers Association banquet May 12 at the Sheraton-Lincoln in Worcester.

The award is given each year to recognize individuals who exemplify both high quality teaching and creativity in environmental education.

Bachner has been involved in early childhood education for 20 years and has worked with young children in nature study.

She has taught at the Early Childhood Center for two years. She says she integrates a lot of ecology into her classroom.

Her work is not limited to the classroom. She has been active in training other teachers to work with children in nature and has done a considerable amount of curriculum design in education.

Currently, she is teaching an in-service course to other elementary school teachers. The subject is teaching environmental awareness to young children.

Bachner has also run summer day camp programs for the Audubon Society.

Emmanuel

Cristian Capano, daughter of Madeline and George Capano, Jr., 2 Millstone Circle, Andover, received a bachelor of arts degree in political science/business management from Emmanuel College during its 66th Commencement exercises on May 21.

Capano was a recipient of the Sister Helen Madeline Scholarship, the National Leadership Award, appeared on the Dean's List for two semesters and was selected to appear in the 1988 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities." She served as senior class president and treasurer of the Student Government Executive Board and was a member of the parents weekend, alumnae weekend and student/alumnae mentor program committees. Capano interned with the Massachusetts Legislature, House of Representatives. Her plans include travel and further education in real estate management.

Burnham Receives Masters

Robert L. Burnham of Andover was among 162 students to receive the degree of Master of Business Administration from the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration at the commencement exercises of Dartmouth College on Sunday, June 12.

Burnham received a bachelor of arts degree in 1980 from Dartmouth College and a master of science degree in 1982 from the University of Montana.

Dartmouth, the ninth oldest college in the United States and the northernmost of the Ivy League institutions, has a total enrollment of some 4,000 undergraduate and nearly 1,000 graduate students. The school operates on a distinctive four-term, year-round system.

The Tuck School is one of three graduate professional schools established at Dartmouth in addition to the basic undergraduate liberal arts program. It was founded in 1900 by international banker and financier Edward Tuck, Dartmouth 1862, in memory of his father, the Honorable Amos Tuck, Dartmouth 1835, and is the oldest graduate school of business administration in the nation.

The other professional schools at Dartmouth are the Dartmouth Medical School, fourth oldest in the country and the Thayer School of Engineering, one of America's first civil engineering schools.

Ballots made of broken pottery were used by the citizens of Ancient Athens to get rid of unpopular politicians. Whenever 6,000 or more were cast, the official was sent into exile for 10 years.

Class Of '88 Says Goodbye To High School

By Julie M. Barry

1988—it's a year that will always be remembered for arms negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union, the Gary Hart brouhaha, the presidential election, televangelist scandals, and the Bruins' chance at winning the Stanley Cup.

But graduation will probably remain the high point for the 363 Andover High School seniors who received their diplomas at the Eugene V. Lovely Field June 7.

The graduates held their heads high as they marched to their respective seats during the procession.

"Pomp and Circumstance," the traditional processional song, was a bit overshadowed by the cheers, whistles and "woos" of exuberant families and friends of the graduates.

Before the diplomas were awarded, several speakers talked about Andover High and the future of its graduates.

The crowd seemed attentive to the words of advice, but a side show of activities also grabbed their attention. A plane carrying a banner that read "Congrats Mark Duncan and Class of 88" circled the field. Down below, bubbles and blue and gold streamers soared through the crowd of graduates.

The speakers maintained a more serious attitude.

Tara Jefferson of New York City, who spent three years at Andover High through the A Better Chance program, said ABC has been a realistic learning experience for her.

Jefferson said she had met the "nicest, most generous" people in Andover, but added that she had also met "the most hypocritical and snobbish" people. She said she was being honest because "if you love something as much as I love Andover, you can praise and criticize, so it can get better."

AHS' American Field Service student, Ana M. Olagary of Argentina, presented her country's flag to Principal Wilbur Hixon.

To date, Hixon said, Andover High has hosted 37 students from 26 different countries.

Class Valedictorian Kellyann MacLean gave the class essay. In her essay, MacLean compared life to a road.

"It is with hopeful anticipation that we look toward the future. It is unclear to us now who or where we shall be, but let us not forget that we must head somewhere and, with effort, we will reach our aspirations."

In her conclusion, she referred to the advice of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow: "Look not mournfully into the Past. It comes not back again. Wisely improve the Present. It is yours. Go forth and meet the shadowy Future."

The students were "psyched" to be graduating, and many said they felt "awesome."

"Overwhelmed" is how Lori Thayer of High Street felt about graduating.

The Class of 1988 seemed excited about

Headed For The Future

By Kellyann MacLean

What follows are excerpts from the class essay valedictorian MacLean read during Andover High School's graduation ceremonies. MacLean, daughter of Gregory and Elaine MacLean of 3 Will 'o Way, will be a freshman at Dartmouth College in the fall.

Today marks for us a very special milestone on the road of our lives.

In our earlier years, the road we traveled was one built by others, particularly our parents. The course we followed was defined, structured and level.

As the years passed, we gained more freedom as the decisions affecting our lives gradually became our own. Now it was up to us to decide whether we should turn right or left, proceed ahead at full speed or back up a few steps, or simply remain where we were. In exchange for this freedom to decide for ourselves, we gave up our freedom from responsibility.

Three years ago our roads intersected at Andover High. After today our paths will once again diverge as we are faced with the ultimate freedom of deciding which direction we will follow for the rest of our lives. There are an infinite number of avenues before us, and we have the freedom to define our goals and to choose the route we think will lead us to our aspirations.

Is Dad the automatic type?

SOME dads like photos to take themselves: auto focus, auto exposure, auto flash.

OTHER dads like to spin F-stops and read manuals and books on photography and are not satisfied until they place Zone 5 of the subject on Zone 5 of the printed photograph.

STILL others are somewhere between.

OVER the years, there's something we've discovered to be universally true: nearly all dads we know like to take pictures and like them to come out nicely.

And there is nothing that makes a more thoughtful gift for Father's Day than something from Andover Photo that makes picture taking more fun.

COME in and describe your father to us and also whether you want to spend under $20 (we can think of a nice filter he'd like) or even up to several hundred dollars (an automatic, semi-automatic or manually operated camera) on a nice gift. We're sure we can find just the right thing for you and that special man in your life.

graduating and moving ahead to the future

"This is a quintessential moment," said Barbara Sheehan of Bateson Drive, laughing.

"Graduation is like moving up a ladder; it's the next step," said Jennifer Hoffman of Woodhaven Drive.

There were also some other emotions among all the thrills of graduating.

"It's scary because you don't know what's going to happen, but you have to move on," said Jodi Weinergarten of S. Main Street.

Kathleen Jayes of Algonquin Avenue said "I think every change is kind of sad, but I'm ready."

"I'm excited, kind of nervous," said Dave Blake of Chester Street. "I'm going to miss high school."

Most Grads College-Bound

Students in Andover High School's graduating class are moving in all directions. Some are furthering their education, while others are entering military service and the work force.

The majority of the graduates, 71 percent, will attend a four-year college. A dozen students are Ivy League-bound.

One student will attend Brown University, majoring in political science. One will go to Columbia University and study engineering. Five are headed for Cornell University and are studying architecture, engineering and psychology. Two students will attend Dartmouth College and have declared history/English and economics as their majors. Three students are going to Harvard University for biology, economics and liberal arts.

The list of non-Ivy League schools ranges from Assumption College to Villanova University.

Many students will attend schools nearby, such as the University of Lowell, Merrimack College, University of Massachusetts, North Adams State College, Boston College, Boston University, the College of the Holy Cross and Tufts University.

Others are traveling to nearby states to further their education. They will be attending schools such as the University of New Hampshire, the University of Vermont, Syracuse University, Providence College, Rutgers University and Bowdoin College.

A few are venturing to far away to places like Colorado State University, Arizona State University, University of California, University of California—Berkeley, Texas A & M, Galveston, University of Oregon and Vanderbilt University.

And four graduates are going abroad. They will be foreign exchange students in Argentina, the Philippines, France and Germany.

Twelve percent of the graduates will attend two-year colleges, such as Northern Essex Community College, Bay State Junior College, Endicott College and Middlesex Community College.

Joining the work force is an option nine percent of the students chose.

Four percent opted to attend a business, technical or specialized school, such as Katharine Gibbs School, Rhode Island Trade Shops and Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute.

Two percent of the graduates have enlisted in the armed forces, and one percent will attend a preparatory school.

Why We Wear Caps, Gowns

Did you ever wonder why caps and gowns are worn at graduation ceremonies?

The academic costume worn at most commencement ceremonies in this country today was actually the clothing worn at European universities in the 12th and 13th centuries, according to Carolyn Payne, coordinator of Boston University's graduation exercises.

The academic dress eight centuries ago was merely the costume of the period, Payne said. Monks and other students, like the rest of the population, wore long robes and hoods to ward off the chill in drafty corridors and classrooms.

Payne says that academic dress, like clerical vestments, retained a distinctive medieval style throughout the centuries. Scholarly costumes eventually came to identify the academic honors and degrees of the wearer.

An academic costume code, which is voluntary, exists today. The three items of clothing specified are the cap, the gown and the hood.

The square, flat mortarboard cap, which originated at Oxford University, features a tassel of the color traditionally assigned to a college graduate's area of study. Tassels at high school graduations generally represent the school's colors. Andover's tassel is blue and gold.

Gowns are royal blue, in accordance with the school's colors.

Hoods are not part of the academic dress at AHS because they represent an advanced college degree.

The top 10 percent of Andover High's graduating class wear an honor stole, said teacher Robert King. This gold, scarf-like garment, with "honor" inscribed on one side, indicates the student's academic achievement.

Julie Livingston reads off her fellow graduates' names. Livingston sports a graduation cap and gown in AHS's traditional blue.

Andover Seniors Celebrate End Of Year With Bash

A fun week of social activities filled the agenda of Andover High School seniors during their final week at the school.

Senior Week was coordinated by class advisers Mike Marcoux and Sally O'Brien. The primary goal, according to Marcoux, was "to build good friendships and bonds amongst the class." The week was very successful in achieving that goal, he said.

While noting that the weather wasn't always perfect, Marcoux said the students took it in stride and had fun.

Senior Week began with a full day trip to Lenox May 25. Students took advantage of the facilities at the Eastover Resort—swimming, softball, basketball and horseback riding. The outing ended with a barbeque and a dance.

Trips to Riverside Amusement Park, a Red Sox game, a slide show and lunch at Kowloon's Restaurant were other scheduled activities.

The most popular event—lunch at Kowloon's—attracted 255 seniors.

This is the first year an extensive week of activities has been planned for the graduating class.

"It brought nice spirit and camaraderie among the kids," Marcoux said.

"They're a terrific class, and they have a lot of potential," O'Brien said. "They're not afraid to try new things."

Essay

We have the freedoms to alter or to retain as they are the values which our parents instilled in us, or we may formulate new ideas. We are free to decide what guidelines we want to live by, and the world is going to demand that we make informed judgments on such issues as nuclear arms, the Contras in Nicaragua or the presidential race. Along with these freedoms to define our own ambitions and to have our own opinions, though, comes greater risk and responsibility to ourselves.

While we pursue the goals we have set, we risk discouragement and getting off track because of obstacles such as failure or harsh criticism. We may want to turn back, but that is too easy. We have the responsibility to ourselves to...continue along the road of life with our heads high...We also risk having the values we hold dear challenged by others who feel differently. We must take the responsibility of defending our principles and standing by them. Yet we also have the responsibility of tolerating our opposition. We must remember that they, like us, are free to have their own views.

Our goals in life should not be completely selfish but rather aimed at helping to make the world a better place in which to live. We should dedicate ourselves to eliminating the craziness and hatred that exist in the world so we can make life safer and more pleasant...

It is unclear to us now who or where we shall be, but let us not forget that we must head somewhere, and, with effort, we will reach our aspirations. If our path is interrupted by a great misfortune, we can still complete the journey to our objective by following alternate routes. If our goals are important to us, the effort to seek other passages will be insignificant. We must not dwell on these errors but let us use them as a lesson and proceed on, remembering the advice of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow—"Look not mournfully into the Past. It comes not back again. Wisely improve the Present. It is yours. Go forth and meet the shadowy Future."

So, my fellow members of the class of 1988, let us move on from high school graduation and follow the road that will bring us to our next milestone. Yes, for the most part, this means saying goodbye to friends with whom we have shared invaluable memories and the best years of our lives, but one day, hopefully, our roads will once again intersect.
